

DETECTIVE LUCAS.

THE EIGHTH DAY OF A LONG- DRAWN TRIAL.

A Strong Effort to Impeach Lucas's Reputation—A Too-fresh Witness Severely Reprimanded—Impeachments Both Ways, and Some Very Plain Opinions.

The trial of Detective Lucas was resumed yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, before Judge Cheney, department No. 1 of the Superior Court.

A. J. Lucas, resuming, the stand: Mr. Russell went with me to the jail. Harris and Metzler did not go to the jail. It was put in about 2 p.m. of April 30th, and was in there till 11 p.m. the next day. There was no warrant for my arrest. There were two warrants served on me the next day. The complaint charged me with burglarizing a house at 215 Temple street. [Witness identified the warrant.] The Deputy District Attorney admitted the genuineness of the complaint. Attorney Stephens read the complaint. It was signed by Theodore C. Metzler. The complaint charges Lucas with personally entering the premises at 215 Temple street.]

Witness: That care was dismissed without an examination. Never employed Elton to go to San Rafael on the Grass case; that Elton spoke to me on other matters, but I never gave him the Moore certificate. It was lying on my desk with some others. I did not miss it till I saw it at San Rafael. I visited Elton twice in the jail here to get some information from him. He told me he had stolen some things, and had given them to a lady at 65 East Fourth street. He mentioned a pair of opera-glasses, which he had taken from a man. He asked me not to give him away. Mr. Marsh was standing near. I got his washing at a cigar stand on Main street and gave it to Capt. Fletcher. I gave him a dollar on his revolver. I told Mr. Marsh before my arrest about the articles. I never received a letter from Elton's mother. I got a letter from her, however, about the time he was sick in the hospital, and I asked her to write to my folks in England, which I did, and received that letter with that photograph in it. [Witness identified the letter and envelope. The envelope is postmarked, "London, 2-6, 1887," and is addressed to G. A. Flower & Co., 215 Kearney street, San Francisco, and is signed, "Elton Co."]

Witness: I got one more letter from Elton & Co. I never was on any streets with Elton but Commercial and Main streets in the business portions. In his conversations he reported he was handling a patent harness trace. I saw him wearing a special police star, but not that. [Referring to the one Elton had made at Adams' shop on Commercial street.] He said he was acting as a special officer for the Salvation Army. Harris and I met in conflict in the Perkins-Baldwin case a year ago last June. We were on opposite sides. I did some work on the Anselia case. I was employed by the relatives of the Hitchcocks. Metzler was down there. At the same time, another witness was searched. Metzler said Marsh was trying to down him, and he would kill the s— of a b—. There was no money in the purse when Elton gave it to me. I never received a dollar from Elton. I never made an agreement with Elton to divide burglaries. I had to discharge Elton because of his manner to me and his conduct in connection with my business. He would shadow my movements to find out where my business was, and he would follow me to my office, and when I let him go, I went to see Elton the second time when he was in jail to find the correct address of the lady he mentioned, and he gave it to me.

Cross-examined: My name is A. E. Lucas. The "J" was accidentally substituted for the "I." Elton little knew what he was doing; a large and costly amount of printing for our detective agency, and as it was too late to correct it, I thought it was immaterial. I was married as A. E. Lucas, and so gave my name to the lodges. I was never convicted of a felony.

Mr. Pavton read from the notes of the preliminary examination, asking the witness if she had given testimony as they taken, it was ruled out.

Witness, continuing: Am a State officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. First saw Elton April 3d last. After Elton was arrested I went to see him. Mr. Marsh was present. I went in there to pump him for the police department. He told me that he kept a woman on Alameda Street.

Q: Was that the Whittier woman?

A: No, sir.

Witness: When Elton represented himself to be a brother of Bertie Crowe, I gave him away to the police.

The prosecution introduced a paper, purporting to be a court record, and asked the witness if he is the party named therein. The defense objected on the ground that it is proper only for rebuttal. The objection was sustained.

Q: Were you ever convicted in the United States District Court under the name of A. J. Lucas?

Objection of the defense sustained on the ground that it is not cross-examination.

Recess till 2 p.m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The court reassembled at 2 p.m. A. J. Lucas was recalled, but, as the Court overruled the questions of the prosecution in regard to certain evidence given by the defendant in his preliminary examination, he was excused, and the defense closed.

Theodore C. Metzler (in rebuttal): Have known Finnegass continuously since 1877. His reputation for truth, honesty, and integrity is very bad. He is a deadly enemy of mine. Have known Lucas since 1876 or 1877. Have met him continuously, and was acquainted with his doings in that time.

The Court ruled out several questions as to whether the witness would believe Finnegass or Lucas under oath.

Witnesses: Lucas's reputation is bad.

Cross-examined: Am not friendly with Lucas. Cannot say I am enemy of his. I would not do anything to injure him outside of my line of duty. Was in the detective business in San Francisco. I belonged to a different detective association from Lucas. Have been in Los Angeles since last January. Am working for the city. Know the Perkins-Baldwin. He has been connected with the United States Post Service for 15 years. There are no friendly feelings between us. I once applied for his position. Have been an enemy of Finnegass since the big opium steal of 1872. Was connected with the California Detective Bureau. J. H. Mahoney and myself were its principals.

T. F. Lane: Have lived here 15 months. Know him Lucas 12 years. Know him to be a thief and a liar.

The last having not been given in response to any question, the Court ordered him from the stand, and told him that he could be thankful that nothing further happened to him, and the Court further directed the jury to totally disregard the witness' testimony.

B. E. Tanev was put on the stand.

The prosecution again offered an alleged record of a court, but the Court ruled it out.

B. E. Tanev: Am Justice of the Peace of Los Angeles township. Lucas was before me as defendant in a preliminary examination.

Several questions asked the witness by the prosecution were ruled out.

Emile Harris (recalled): Have known Lucas about a year and a half. Lucas's reputation is bad.

Cross-examined: I am captain of the police detectives. I am not unfriendly to Lucas. I was a detective in the Perkins-Baldwin case. I did not fail to get my fee in that case. I have heard Mr. Padleton and Mr. Laycock. I was hunting up the record of Mr. Lucas's life. I heard Mr. Marsh say Lucas's reputation for truth was bad. Don't know his initials. He lives somewhere in the city. Heard Mr. Maddrill say so; don't know where he lives. Metzler said so. Elton said so. Caines said so. Appel said so, your own partner. [Laughs.] He said both Elton and Lucas ought to be in San Quentin. I am not mistaken as what Appel said. I have examined my list of names.

A. W. Maddrill testified: Have lived in Los Angeles a year and a half. Knew Lucas in Nevada in 1876 or 1873. Lucas's reputation is bad.

Cross-examined: Am telegraph editor of the Tribune, and am one of its proprietors. Among those who told me of its proprietors, Laycock, formerly of Reno. Also, I heard W. J. Marsh say so. I do not know what people generally say of him.

The defense moved to strike out the testimony of this witness. The Court granted the motion.

Frank P. Flint: Am deputy United States marshal. Have known Lucas about four years. His reputation was bad in San Francisco.

Cross-examined: Am 25 years old. Never heard his reputation discussed after his trial. I hear no others talk of it. Was in the wrangling paper business. Knew thousands of people there. Lucas had been charged with falsely imprisoning a person.

I don't know anything about his imprisonment for truth and veracity in San Francisco. The trial was in a State court. I see I can't give testimony to please either side.

[Laughter.] W. J. March: Am a real-estate agent. Knew Lucas in Reno, Nev., 10 or 11 years ago. Have been in Los Angeles a year and a half. His reputation for truth in Reno was bad. It would be hard to name any one there I heard speak against him.

T. F. Laycock (recalled): I don't know his reputation here. Lucas came to Reno in 1876 and left in 1877. His reputation was bad.

Cross-examined: I was his partner for eight or ten months.

B. W. Lee testified: Lucas's reputation in this community is good.

H. H. Appel testified: I did not tell Harris that Lucas ought to be in the State's prison.

B. A. Stephens testified: The reputation of A. J. Lucas for truth, honesty and integrity in this community is good.

H. A. Branson testified to the same thing, and gave a long list of names. One of them was Thomas M. McCracken.

Q: What did he say?

A: He said that it was a pity that a good man like Lucas should be downed by such a man as Elton Harris.

Q: What did he say about Harris?

A: He said Harris had helped to hang Chinaman here one time.

Judge R. M. Widney testified that he did not know the general reputation of half a dozen men in the county. He had always heard well of Mr. Lucas.

The court adjourned until 9:30 a.m. to day.

W.C.T.U.

The Regular Weekly Meeting—Re-sponsibility of Parents.

The Central W.C.T.U. held its regular weekly meeting at Trinity Methodist Church yesterday, convening at 2 p.m. The attendance was large. Mrs. Garbutt opened the meeting and presided.

The members read, turn about, a W.C.T.U. leaflet on Sunday-school temperance work.

The conclusion of the leaflet was to this effect: "Nor should we rest until every child in the Sunday-school is pledged and so thoroughly and intelligently educated in the Bible principles of temperance that we may say of them as David did of the ruddy-faced ones, 'They have known God.'"

Mrs. Keyes, in her remarks concerning the "pockets"—receptacles for good literature—which have recently been adjusted in public places, desired the ladies in their reading to mark what was of special worth before depositing in receptacles for the use of others. By so doing, people having but little time or means could at once read what was valuable.

Mrs. Crow reported favorably in regard to Long Beach accommodations for those who should attend the W.C.T.U. convocation and anti-saloon convention during the coming week.

The Workman-Humphreys reform plan worked to such good effect that plans are being made to extend the same throughout the country. The managers of the party are terribly exercised over the fight, and are doing all in their power to whip the unwashed into the ranks, but the louder they snap the party lash the louder the snarls become.

The Buckley lamb of Los Angeles are gambling in anything but a playful manner. The bosses who are handling the Buckley sack seem to occupy their time in throwing mud at Messrs. Humphreys and Workman, who have dared to denounce the corrupt system which has been in use in San Francisco. The Mayor and the President of the Council declared that they would fight any of Buckley's plans to the bitter end, the Los Angeles Buckleyites put on their war paint and openly declared that they would make it so warm for Messrs. Humphreys and Workman that they would have to not only get out of office, but leave the city. These rebels were scattered broadcast over the city, and the Buckleyites actually believed that they would be able to carry out their threats. The tables have been turned, however, and if the lambs are not very careful they will have to seek other climes themselves.

The Workman-Humphreys reform plan has worked to such good effect that plans are being made to extend the same throughout the country. The managers of the party are terribly exercised over the fight, and are doing all in their power to whip the unwashed into the ranks, but the louder they snap the party lash the louder the snarls become.

The Buckle wing of the party will be represented by Mr. Cuthbertson and Mrs. Cuthbertson, who will cut each other's throat in great shape. This abattoir think they have things their own way, but it is whispered around the streets that the Workman-Humphreys wing of the party are laying for them with a big scalp knife on the one hand, while the toughs and rock-rollers are laying for the party with the other.

The other art glass numbers in the house are executed in the floral and geometric styles, the graceful curves and symmetrical arrangements of the latter style being very elegant and effective.

This work was designed and the sketches for the painted subjects were prepared by the talented son of Mr. Rose, a rising young artist of the San Francisco Art School.

Under the direction of Mr. Rose, the windows were filled with people, and in a few minutes a crowd of several hundred had gathered about the scene of the accident, which was directly in front of Germania's liquor store. The injured man was pulled out from under the car as soon as possible, and was found to be in a dying condition. Several police officers had been attracted by the crowd, and they removed the man to the police station, where he breathed his last in a few minutes. The news of the accident spread rapidly, and the police station was crowded with people, all anxious to get a look at the dead man. He was removed to the back of the prison, however, and the coroner's inquest was held in the rear of the station, where the inquest will be held this morning.

From friends of the dead man it was learned that he was a widower and had four wife and four or five children, who lived near the Southern Pacific depot. Sheridan was a laborer, and had been at work on the new building now in course of construction at the corner of Spring and Seventh streets. He was on his way home when the accident occurred, and had a parcel of sugar which he was evidently taking home. So far as he could learn, he was a good boy, and either the street-car driver or conductor, as Sheridan was trying to walk along the side-board of the car, and had not rung the bell for it to stop.

Later the driver of the car, Forrester, surrendered himself to the officers at the East Side station, and he was brought over and booked for criminal carelessness. The man was recognized on his own recognition, to appear when wanted. He will probably be exonerated by the Coroner's jury at the inquest this morning.

A Lecture on Astronomy.

Prof. George W. James, who is a member of the Royal Astronomical Society of London, England, and whose lectures at the Alliance meeting at Long Beach so delighted and instructed the mass of people assembled to hear him, has consented to give his two celebrated lectures on astronomy next week at the Fort Street Methodist Episcopal Church, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The lectures will be illustrated with the aid of a great power, which cost $800. There is not another like it in the United States. It gives a perfect view of the heavenly bodies in full motion around each other.

The East-side people still complain about the scant water supply, which leaves them absolutely without protection in case of fire. They think that the Council should hurry up matters for them, and compel the companies to at least put in four-inch mains throughout the eastern part of the city.

A FRIGHTFUL SKIN DISEASE.

Sufferings Intense, Head Nearly Raw, Body Covered with Sores—Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

MESSRS. STEVENS & BRUNER, Monroe, N. C.

Dear Sirs: About two months ago, on your recommendation, I sent Cuticura Salve and Cuticura Resolvent, one box CUTICURA SALVE, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, for my son, aged thirteen years, who has been afflicted with severe eczema for some time, and am pleased to say that he is now entirely well.

He has been a victim of the Cuticura Remedy for several times, but he stated recently that he had been better than ever before. The Cuticura Remedy is a great pride in their organization, believes that every indication points to the overwhelming success of the Republican party at the coming election, and feeling enthusiastic over the national, Congressional and county tickets; therefore, he is anxious to get the nomination for Sheriff.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Am. Friends, Ora Fino Club, meeting every Saturday evening, to support the Republican ticket from top to bottom, and we hereby authorize the Executive Committee to make arrangements for a grand celebration in their new hall on Friday evening, August 17th, to which every Republican club in the county is invited.

That Messrs. C. M. Wells and H. J. Cuthbertson be a committee of arrangements for the reception of every Tippecanoe veteran of 1840.

That the Ora Fino Juniors be made a committee to entertain all junior organizations in the county, while the Ora Fino Club will arrange all details.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

A Partisan Shot.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 2.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] In THE TIMES of Wednesday the statement was inadvertently made that Horace Bell showed in his defense, in his late libel trial, that I "slipped away from Indiana clandestinely." To the contrary, I left there in broad daylight, without the least intimation of any "feeling against me," as would testify Dr. A. Jones (a cousin of Bell), W. W. Kintner of Corydon, H. R. W. Meyer (County Clerk of Floyd County), Brig.-Gen. Anthony and Maj. I. P. Smith (commander of Jeffersonville barracks) and Judge W. E. Alexander of Brandenburg, Ky.

The three allegations in the porcupine libel on me, viz.: (1) That the Baldwin-Wells gang sent me to Indiana; (2) that I "subsidized" witnesses; (3) that I fled the State of Indiana to escape lynching, Bell failed to prove by a single line of evidence, as the record shows. Verily, the reasoning of some Los Angeles juries is past finding out.

B. A. STEPHENS.

Mr. Edwin W. Joy, for years now a prominent druggist on the corner of Stockton and Main streets in San Francisco probably never dreamed of rivaling in wealth the medicine kings of the country. But various rumors having been flying around concerning his wealth, a San Francisco reporter was detailed to unearth the cause, and after much difficulty unravelled the following story:

It seems that about seven years ago an Englishman, a member of a colony located in a remote part of the country, who was a physician, came to San Francisco to practice his art. He was received with open arms, and soon became a favorite with the medical profession. In fact, he was so popular that he was soon elected president of the San Francisco Medical Society.

He was a man of great energy and ability, and soon became a favorite with the medical profession. In fact, he was so popular that he was

The New York Saloon Journal has declared for Cleveland. Wonder whether its editor was shocked by the "free whisky" plank in the Republican platform?

The Apache outbreak seems to be chiefly confined to a quarrel among some of the Indians, due to indulgence in liquor. The Indian with liquor in him is an irresponsible wild beast.

The Boston Journal, a very conservative paper, in the course of a long editorial on the recent Anarchist conspiracy in Chicago, draws attention to the fact that those implicated in this diabolical plot were, without exception, foreigners, most of them being unable to speak English, and very pertinently remarks that there is no other nation on the earth whom these alien conspirators would dare to attack as they have our own. The Journal concludes its remarks as follows:

What is needed to make a renewal of Anarchistic plottings a sheer impossibility is a great popular assertion of the idea that Americans must rule America—an idea into which our good citizens, whatever their origin, may enter. There are signs that this idea is assuming an enormous magnitude, and that not only Anarchism, but offensive alienism of every kind and degree, has got to go down before it.

The Express is informed that we are not devoting ourselves to the demolition of any Republican, but we will not sit idly by, without objection, and see injurious men, like De Young, Haymond and their satellites, handicap the party and impair its prospects by incorporating in the issues of the campaign unfounded rumors regarding eventualities which are more or less doubtful and undesirable. Let us have no unnecessary complications in this fight. The issues are clearly defined, and the enemy would be only too glad to see our attention diverted by extraneous matters. Perhaps "Mr. Osborne," who is inclined to be personal, and who obliquely advertises in his own paper the possession by himself of a powerful intellect (but gives no affidavits), might employ a segment of that alleged article in explaining (powerfully) some of the numerous "bad breaks" made by his California confreres in the Chicago Convention. He might even essay the difficult role of attempting to explain away how one of the delegates, who went to that convention as a (timidly) pronounced Sherman man, "went back on" the Ohio Senator under the influence of the more "powerful intellects" or louder yaws of De Young and Haymond. The explanation would be interesting, if "powerful."

Labor Under Free Trade.

In a few months the workingmen of this country will be called upon to decide whether they desire to live for the ensuing four years under a protective or a free-trade system. The Democrats may squeal, and squirm, and shift, and dodge, and try to avoid and obscure the issue in every possible manner, but they cannot change the facts. They are too palpable. The English journals unanimously recognize the import of the coming struggle and anxiously await the result.

Such being the case, anything which tends to throw light upon the condition of the working classes in free-trade England is of interest just now. The Chief Inspector of Factories and Workshops in that country has issued his annual report for the year ending October 31, 1887. It is published by the English Government, and is, therefore, official. We are only able to give a few extracts from the reports of the sub-inspectors. Regarding the cotton trade, the inspector for Manchester and Warrington says:

"For the year 1876, just since about the year 1876, the trade has been much depressed, owing to a variety of causes, of which the principal one is the increased severity of competition with the other countries where the conditions of labor are more favorable to cheap production, while many and in some cases almost prohibitive duties are placed upon cotton goods exported from this country."

The inspector in the iron district reports that iron-moulder's are making $10.80 for seven and one-half days' work; laborers, $4.50 to $4.80 for seven and one-half days' work. He adds:

"Notwithstanding this comparative favoritism, however, there are probably fewer classes of operatives among whom there is greater real distress. This little varying wage is far from being or having been a continuous one. Periods of great exertion in this industry alternate with periods of complete idleness. The result is deteriorating and demoralizing, and poverty and misery prevail among them to a large extent."

The iron ship-building trade a reduction of from 10 to 50 per cent. in remuneration has taken place. The following shows the rate of weekly wages in a ship-building yard on the Clyde in 1882 and 1887:

Riveters, caulkers.....	$7.02	$5.52
Holders.....	5.00	4.05
Fitters and platers.....	7.50	5.94
Carpenters.....	8.00	6.68
Blacksmiths.....	7.82	6.28
Painters.....	8.10	7.29
Plumbers.....	8.10	7.29
Engineers.....	8.10	8.10
Laborers.....	3.92	3.78

The prospect of the United States taking such action may well seem almost incredible to the Canadian journal. It has excited equal astonishment among many on this side of the line.

BAILY-INFORMED Republican papers are trying to prove that the absurd position of that party in claiming a free-for-whisky is identical with that of the pro-slavery people. Not so. There is a world of difference between the two points of view.

There is a great difference between the attitude of the Republicans and of the Prohibitionists in this matter, and while we do not by any means agree with the latter, we must say its position is more consistent and logical than that of the Republican who carries free whisky on one shoulder and the temperance plank of Bottelle on the other.—Herald.

The spectacle of a Democratic paper drawing fine distinctions between the motives which actuate the Republicans and Prohibitionists, in their internal revenue policy, is humorous in the highest degree. The party which pretends to have for its object the abolition of alcoholic beverages is, according to the Herald, more consistent and logical in desiring to cheapen liquor than is the Republican party, which suggests that course as a last resource. Twaddle! That done, Secretary Manning said, we should get all the rights demanded for our fishermen and required for the interests of the United States, and he absolutely, by order, prohibited the transit of goods; but when the law officers came to examine the question they advised him he had no right to prevent this transit. While we acted in perfect good faith and permitted Canadian cars to pass freely, the Canadians have been acting against us in every particular. It has been stated upon the highest authority that by secret arrangements and drawbacks both railroads and canals, the transportation of the products of the Northwest has been carried on in Canadian vessels, driving out American vessels. The British Government had given the Canadian Pacific road sufficient money to build it through barren wilderness. The road had been extended to Puget Sound in perfect operation, but it would have been comparatively valueless if it could not obtain a market. The port of Seattle, So. that obtained from Maine, Vermont and other States bordering on the Canadian country charters to American organizations for the construction of railroads with money which the British Government or Canadian Government had given as subsidies, and the States of Maine and Vermont today are being used for purposes of diverting this commerce to the American ports. The Burns of Missouri raised a point of order against this amendment, and it was sustained.

The French spoliation claims section of the bill having been reached, Mr. Long of Massachusetts said there was no longer any excuse for delaying payment of these claims, in view of the fact that a judicial tribunal of the Government had selected a conciliation alike of fact and of law, declared their validity and the Government's indebtedness.

After some further discussion, the committee rose, and the House took a recess.

The House, at the evening session, passed 30 private pension bills, and at 10:30 adjourned until Monday.

Starting Statistics.

The Los Angeles Tribune, edited by a distinguished sour-mash statesman, under the guidance of a distinguished Directing Mind, has made a discovery, and proceeds to describe the same in the following able editorial advertisement:

"A HAPPY ADVERTISER."

A gentleman of this city who lately had a piece of realty he desired to sell sent his advertisement to the Tribune and also to THE TIMES. In each paper the advertisement was given 14 insertions. It was of the "small ad" variety, and went in, in both papers, under the head of "For Sale." Everything, then, depended upon the circulation respectively of the two papers, and the position of each in the "want" columns of each paper.

The gentleman aforesaid has sold his property; he is quite happy; and he has reported to us some interesting particulars.

Every day for fourteen days he sent to THE TIMES office for answers. On some days he got three, on others two, and on still others one. At the end of the time he was able to count exactly twenty-eight inserts.

Likewise he sent every day to the Tribune office for replies. On some days he got nine, on others five, on others still seven. In all, during the fourteen days, he received ninety-eight replies. He sold his property to a gentleman who addressed him by letter, the ad. in the Tribune inclosed.

The advertiser is happy; and naturally he has a high opinion of the Tribune as an advertising medium.

This is indeed remarkable, even for a Trombone discovery. But we have a case that is even more remarkable; in fact, it is simply "stormy." Here it is. The facts do not rest upon mere newspaper assertion, but are, it will be seen, from a high government official source:

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—[Special by the California Associated Grapevine Bureau.] The census department of the United States Government has just completed a very interesting investigation into the merits of two Los Angeles papers as advertising mediums. A "small ad," soliciting a position to do the brain-work in a tannery factory, was inserted three weeks ago in the LOS ANGELES TIMES and in the Tribune. At the end of three weeks there had been received from the advertisement in THE TIMES 1743 answers, and from the Tribune notice only nine, seven of which, as reported by a secret agent of this department employed to "work" Los Angeles, were written on Tribune letter paper and had evidently been dictated by the member of the Tribune business office, whose duty it is to write answers to advertisements appearing in that paper, in order to make advertisers believe that the paper is read. The result of this interesting investigation will be published in the next Census Report, which will probably appear about the year 1897. In consequence of this discovery, the Census Bureau is happy; and naturally it has a high opinion of the LOS ANGELES TIMES as an advertising medium.

THE British Hosiery Journal has this to say:

"We venture to assert that England will reap the largest share of any advantages which may arise from the adoption of the ideas now advocated by the free-trade party in the United States." No doubt our British contemporary is quite right. Here is another interesting extract, from a Canadian source—the Hamilton Spectator:

"Our neighbors across the line seem likely to afford us an opportunity of entering their markets, as they did before the days of our national policy, when they slaughtered their surplus steaks at prices with which our own manufacturers were unable to compete. This is such an opportunity as comes to us, seeing we are in a position to do what is most remarkable, but many of our manufacturers are forecasting the results that must, they say, inevitably follow the passage of certain tariff legislation now before the United States Congress, and said to be strongly supported as to warrant the belief that it will pass and become law."

The prospect of the United States taking such action may well seem almost incredible to the Canadian journal. It has excited equal astonishment among many on this side of the line.

The Senator did not stop to consider the proposition, but struck the blackmailer a powerful blow and knocked him down in a corner. Eisfelden made an attempt to draw a revolver, but the Senator resumed the attack, and the man made as hasty an exit as possible, passing through a room in which were a number of clerks, who also forcibly assisted him to the street.

TUCSON (Ariz.), Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] A courier from Redington, on the San Pedro, states that the troops scouted up and down the river for a long distance. There is no trace of the Indians having crossed the river, which is very high and still rising, owing to heavy rains. It is now quite certain that if any Indians left the reservation they have gone into Northern Arizona.

ONLY A DRUNKEN ROW.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—Gen. O. O. Howard received a dispatch from Gen. Miles this morning stating that everything is quiet among the Indians at Porterville, and that the firing there on Wednesday night was among the Indians, and not intended to disturb the whites at the sub-agency. Gen. Howard stated that his dispatches showed that the disturbances in Arizona were due to drunkenness on the part of some Indians.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The following telegram was received a. m. the War Department this morning:

"Gen. Miles telegraphs from Ft. Grant as follows:

"Indians fired into Porter's and the camp-guards tents at Fowler's old camp last evening about sundown. The soldiers reached the post about 2:30. There are supposed to be six or seven Indians about to join the renegades. Have sent troops to investigate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] The contest for positions on the team to represent the Department of California in the shooting contest at Vancouver, Wash., on Monday, August 13th, was brought to a close at the Presidio today. It was the fourth day's trial, and the shooting was confined to skirmish marksmanship. Corporal Christian Briand of troop A, Second Cavalry, made the unprecedented score of 104, and pulled away from all other competitors. This score, added to his other scores, gave him a total of 523, and placed him first on the head of the team. He also wins the departmental gold medal and the department skirmish silver medal.

The team which was selected today consists of twelve men, and they will be accompanied by two alternates, whose duty it will be to fill any vacancy which may occur through death or sickness. The members of the team will leave the Presidio on Friday next for Vancouver, where they will compete with the departments of the Columbia and Arizona. These men will then compete for places in the team, which will meet at Ft. Niagara. As there are but five to be selected, it is expected that the contest at Vancouver will be very interesting.

California's Chinese Population Tops Up to 200,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] Collector Hager has compiled a statement of arrivals and departures of Chinese at this port since 1852, showing that the grand total of arrivals for the 37 years has been 366,636, with 179,095 departures. The number of Chinese leaving this port in 1887 was about 2000 less than in 1886, while the arrivals, on the other hand, show an increase of 5000 over 1886. Up to the present date there have been 7423 arrivals during the quarter, and 1731 departures. He does not take into account the number smuggled over the border from British America, nor arrivals from New York and other States. It is estimated that over 200,000 Chinese are in the State.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 2.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] L. C. Anderson, a life-long Democrat, has come out flat-footed for Harrison and Morton. Mr. Anderson has the handsomest 20-acre orange orchard in the valley. He has worked hard and long to obtain this valuable property, and he does not propose, by the example of his vote, to foster a policy that simply means the sacrifice of the results of 10 hard years of labor. There are more like him in this neighborhood, who are not so outspoken, but will quietly vote against free trade.

Those of our good people who have been away from home "for a change," have disposed of their spare change, and now seek their respective abodes, with thankfulness in their hearts that they can claim fair Alhambra as an abiding place.

Mrs. J. W. Bessonett has returned from New York State, and although not there, she says that the climate there is "beautiful, don't you know?" Mrs. H. W. Stanton, with her two children, came at the same time, glad, indeed, to return once again. In unison they are chanting: "There is no place like home."

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Stroud are home from a trip to San Francisco and the surrounding towns. Claude has decided that he prefers to place his coin in Los Angeles county; and will never again hanker after the fleshpots of the northern counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Stroud are home from a trip to Missouri and Illinois, the intense heat there causing them to return sooner than at first intended. Another commitment to our equable climate. Mr. Stroud had the rare pleasure of attending both the great national conventions. He reports that the Chicago Convention was the most enthusiastic. Possibly a straw.

Mr. A. Thompson, who went as far as Sacramento with Mrs. Thompson on her way east, visited San Francisco and other places in that part of the State, returning yesterday, having hurried back to bright sunshine, with a shivering recollection of cold winds and chilling fogs prevalent in the north.

On Friday last the people of Alhambra voted on the question of incorporation, with a result of 58 for to 30 against. Everyone, even the opponents, declared it the fairest election they ever witnessed. Notwithstanding which, a few self-appointed watchdogs of the treasury appeared before the honorable Board of Supervisors with a remonstrance against the canvassing of the votes on the grounds that the original petition did not wholly comply with the law. The result was a postponement of action by the Supervisors until Tuesday morning next at 10 o'clock, when the honorable board will listen to the opinion of the District Attorney as to its powers in the matter. The good people of this hamlet are law-abiding in every respect. If they have made an error in the preliminaries required to secure an order of election they are willing to acknowledge it, and will abide faithfully by the result.

But they are likewise human, and having acted throughout in good faith, and been sustained by a large majority of the heaviest taxpayers of the community, they somehow scent a faint breath of vindictiveness on the part of the small minority of taxpayers who are straining every nerve to thwart the will of the people.

It may be interesting to know that among the 30 who voted against 15 held no property whatever, while among the 58 who voted for, two only are without this requisite to happiness. Some may characterize this as a coincidence, but to the man up a tree, it looks much like a significance.

Orange and Vicinity.

ORANGE, Aug. 1.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Sun-brown faces are all the style.

Tents and bathing suits are in great demand.

The Orange Cornet Band have attained great proficiency, and their semi-weekly drills are excellent free concerts to the many listeners.

The two great questions now are "When are you going?" or "When did you return from the mountains, or coast?"

The M. E. Church was represented by nine tents, and between 35 and 40 persons, at the Long Beach camp-meeting. A large number will probably attend the temperance convention there next week.

The roads, in places, are being repaired with an abundance of good gravel, and many of them are in a most excellent condition.

The beautiful grounds of Mme. Modjeska are attracting much attention, and pleasure parties up Santiago Cañon to her home are abundantly repaid for the long ride by the exquisite scenery which is presented on every side, nearly the whole distance of about 15 miles.

It is more than twenty years since the first organization of the Prohibition party—just eighteen years since the first ticket was put in the field in Indiana—that that party has never closed a single saloon or enacted a single law. Meanwhile, the Prohibitionists acting through other parties have absolutely closed the saloons in Iowa and Kansas, and have so put them under restraint in nine other States that they are practically prohibited, and yet there are men who exercise good judgment in other things who insist on maintaining that feeble, powerless party. Fortunately their number is few and rapidly decreasing, as every late election shows.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] The New York's special from Elkhart, Ind., says: Benjamin Scott, a Texan, who came here recently, this afternoon fatally stabbed Con Crowley, a stock dealer, George Newall, a leading farmer and capitalist, and James Smith, colored porter of the Clifton House. Newall and Crowley, it is claimed by Scott, had trespassed on his property. Scott said he would stab any one who would infringe his rights, to which Crowley said that a man who would use a knife was a cur. At this Scott drew a pocket-knife and stabbed Crowley in the stomach three times. Newall picked up a club and sprang to Crowley's assistance, and received a stab in the left breast that reached the lung. Smith was also stabbed, but not seriously. Scott was arrested and turned to Gresham for safety. Newall's wounds are dangerous and Crowley is unconscious, and his death is expected at any moment.

Detectives After a Train-robber Who Figured in Texas.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] United States detectives left this city for San Francisco on Sunday for the purpose of arresting William Rains, alias Raymond, alias Colby, a Baptist minister, spiritualist, medium, gambler and train-robber, for whom they have been searching since 1877. They expect to reach San Francisco today, and arrest him at once at 45 Sixth street, where he is now playing the rôle of a slate-writing medium. The officers allege that in 1872 he robbed a mail car near Austin, Tex., binding and gagging the clerk and securing $3000.

In 1875, under the name of Rains, he held a successful revival meeting in Hearne, Tex. While in progress the train was held at the depot because of an accident, and the train men attended the revival services. The mail car was robbed of $6000. Rains was arrested, convicted and sentenced to four years' imprisonment for the crime. In prison he developed all the symptoms of consumption, and was finally pardoned by President Hayes in 1877, and disappeared completely for a time. Subsequently he appeared as a slate-writing and materializing medium in New York and Chicago. Last week detectives located him in San Francisco, and left, as stated, for the purpose of taking him into custody.

DULUTH (Minn.), Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] Two separate storms of rain, hail, thunder and lightning visited Duluth this evening within a few moments of each other. During two hours the rain was the heaviest known here. Several houses were struck by lightning, but no one was injured. A policeman and five other men standing on a corner, watching the flood, were knocked down by lightning, but recovered. Upward of 50 firms suffered loss through flooded streets and basements. The electric-light station was flooded, and the lights over the city went out. The washouts and slides were numerous, and almost all over the city, telephone wires were broken and mixed, and railroad yard and road tracks were undermined and carried away.

HAZELWOOD (Minn.), Aug. 3.—Lightning struck the house of Lawrence McLaughlin during last night's storm, killing Mrs. McLaughlin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.] The new Mount Sinai congregation, composed of wealthy Hebrews, assembled tonight to attend the dedication of the newly-constructed temple on East Twenty-second street, but dispersed without having the ceremony take place, by order of Chief Rabbi Joseph. The edifice was formerly used by the Episcopal congregation of St. James, who have sold it to the congregation. The services were stopped by a sudden noise.

Everyone, even the opponents, declared it the fairest election they ever witnessed. ## PASADENA.

Burglaries and the Like—An Absconding Wife.
PASADENA, Aug. 3.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The complaints in regard to burglaries, sneak-thieves, etc., continue. An attempt was made last night to enter the cottage of Mr. Copeland, a contractor, on Union avenue, just west of Fair Oaks. The window was the point selected by the burglar by which to effect an entrance, but the noise made in breaking the window-catch attracted the attention of Mrs. Copeland, who was alone in the house at the time, the husband being absent on business. The lady shouted lustily for assistance, and, luckily for her and for Mr. Copeland's ducats, Officer Straw's attention was attracted by her screams, and he at once ascertained the cause of the disturbance, but not in time to catch the intruder, who made off on hearing the screams of the frightened lady. Our police are attentive and able, but as this is a city of distances, they are unable to cover all the ground. The force should by all means be enlarged, and thus give the citizens better protection.

The case of Mosher vs. Pasadena Laundry has been appealed, as it is claimed there is a principle involved in the case, which is not at all to be measured by the small sum specifically sued for.

A sad case of desertion of husband and family, and an elopement on the part of an erring wife has just come to light. Mrs. Lizzie Shafer, wife of Frank Shafer of this city, has lately absented herself from the family hearthstone, having found superior and more pleasing attractions elsewhere, and rumor has it that a certain young man, sojourning at San Diego, has more complete information on that point.

Since it to say that the injured husband has letters which show the exact status of the case from the erring but repentant wife, in which she hints that she had found greater and more pleasing affiliations in other directions than her own home, acknowledges her error, wants the incensed and justly-indignant husband to take good care of her deserted child, a boy of about 6 years of age, and above all things not to tell her mother of her escapade, as such a recital would well nigh cause the death of her aged parent.

These facts show that the erring wife may not be beyond redemption, and may by proper treatment be won back to the domestic circle.

Particular to that end information has been filed by the disconsolate husband with Judge Terry, and a warrant issued for the arrest of the departed wife on the charge of deserting her son, Earl Roy Shafer, being a minor of less than 6 years of age.

The abused husband seemed to manifest a disposition to use this means to try to get the wife back again, and to engage her sympathies in behalf of her deserted son, and, using that plan, in time caused her to resume her duties and abandon those seeming fresh fields and pastures green which had so fascinated her of late, and all respectable citizens will be glad to know that good intention of the husband has been successfully carried out. The wife was expected on the incoming San Bernardino train, and was to be apprised of its arrival.

The following card has been issued by the Board of Trade:

To the Citizens of Pasadena: It is necessary that you decide immediately whether Pasadena is to be represented by an exhibit of her products and her homes and public institutions at the Grand Army encampment at Columbus, O., next month. If we are to be so represented, it is essential that we provide at once the ways and means.

For the purpose of determining the sentiment of the people on this subject a public meeting is hereby called at the Board of Trade, tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Let everybody turn out. If we do anything, we must do something that will be a credit to the city, and we must do it at once."

Father F. X. Neiman will deliver a temperance lecture in the haymarket tomorrow night. This gentleman is a brother of a San Francisco liquor-dealer.

To House Owners.
In view of the depression in the real estate sales market, we have decided to give special attention to the rental branch of our business. We want houses of all descriptions to rent. Our demand far exceeds our supply. Three days' rent will pay our charges in all cases. You can get a house three days sooner than you can, and will cost you nothing to secure a tenant for a month and possibly a year. If we rent it a week shorter than you can, say, we will give you what our charges will be therefore, put your property in our hands immediately and save money. We keep a carriage to show your house to any one wishing to rent or buy it, and we advertise your property. Try us. Los Angeles and San Diego Real Estate Agency, No. 1 North First street.

What Am I To Do.

The symptoms of biliousness are unhappy but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. To a foaming, sial, he has an excellent appetite for liquids, but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and furred, it is rough, at all events. The digestive system is wholly out of order, and diarrhea or constipation, may be the companion of each other, and may alternate. There are often hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this it not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

The First Congregational Church will hold morning services tomorrow in the Grand Opera house.

The wreck of the steamer Murray at Redondo Beach, which the purchaser has been dismantling for some time, is to be blown up tomorrow.

The Bonebrake Invincibles have secured a lease of A.O.U.W. Hall (Opera-house block) for their meetings. The first meeting in the new location will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph offices, No. 6 Court Street, for the following people: J. T. Atkinson, John F. Sweeney, Plato, Lester & Hyde, Clara Atkinson.

Three applications for bids for township surveys are now on file here in the United States Land Office. The business of the office is increasing every day, and much new territory is being settled up.

There were 26 naturalizations in the Superior Court yesterday. The applications thickened as the time draws to a close. Next Tuesday will be the last day to entitle new citizens to a vote at the polls.

Strong protests being brought to bear to have the gambling-houses opened during race week. It is believed, however, that the sports will not be able to carry their point, even if election-day does loom up in the near future.

There will be an open installation of officers of Merrill Lodge, No. 299, I.O.G.T., at Pythian Castle, 24 South Spring street, this evening. After the installation there will be musical and literary exercises. Admission free.

Rev. W. W. Tucker, of the East Los Angeles Baptist Church, has returned from a few weeks' visit at Santa Monica and Montecito, and will occupy his pulpit tomorrow morning. It has been decided to have no evening service during the month of August.

E. J. Harper, son of C. F. Harper of this city, will address the meeting for men only, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Opera-house Hall under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, C. S. Mason, State secretary, will preside at the meeting.

The fire department turned out yesterday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock to answer an alarm turned in from box 15, at the corner of Ninth and Olive. The alarm was caused by the burning of a small shed and some grass in a yard near that point. The damage was nominal.

Theodore Mooney, who recently came to Los Angeles from Sacramento, and who had been drinking a good deal of late, attempted suicide yesterday morning in a saloon near the Santa Fe depot by taking laudanum in a glass of beer. He was pumped out and saved.

Forty-eight carloads of stone are now en route for this city for P. Beaudry's retaining wall on New High street, which will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. Mr. Beaudry has not yet decided what kind of a building he will put up on the lots, but it will be a good one.

This is considered a complaint about arrests being made, cases commenced in the courts, which never come to no conclusion, but die of neglect or from some other cause. The matter is being investigated, and there may be some developments in the next few days.

Five or six loads of people went out to a secluded spot in the suburbs yesterday morning at an early hour to witness a prize-fight between a couple of pugilistic henchmen. They were disappointed, however, on finding the fight broken off at the breaking of the match.

Articles of incorporation of the Société de l'Union Belge were filed yesterday. The organization is for the purpose of rendering benevolent aid to needy Belgians. The directors are A. Lejeune, George Christians, G. Leplat, A. Buisseret, A. Lambert, E. Schoemaker and G. Maspesier.

J. Pelton reported at the police station yesterday that on August 1st he hired to Charles Sanders, Jr., a saddle at $3.00 per day, and a Columbia buckskin, with the leather and black body, and that the rig has not been returned. The police are on the lookout for the man and team.

C. N. Page, a petty larceny thief, was arrested by Officer Hawley yesterday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock, on Upper Main street, for stealing a coat from Solomon's second-hand store and pawnshop. The coat was found in Page's possession, and he was picked up to having stolen it. The case will come up before Justice Austin this morning.

A couple of bungo men robbed a stranger from Colton out of $270 by a dice game, in a saloon on Main street, Thursday night, but as the Colton man could not identify the sharp no arrests were made. From the description the officers think it is the work of the same old gang, who appear to have a monopoly, and likewise immunity, in the practice of their robbing scheme.

The last meeting of the "Fathers" took place at the home of Judge de Puy, Leith and Pico streets. It was a grand success. All the numbers were well performed, and the recitations and readings by Miss and Mr. Easton were especially well chosen and rendered. The piece by the full club was "Annie Laurie." It was finely done. The next meeting will take place at the home of the vice-president, Mr. L. Y. Farnsworth, Figueroa.

Pat Cagheen was again on the way up last evening. Patrick has an ugly habit of filling up on bad whisky and prancing around with his coat-tails dragging the ground and begging somebody to step on them, and it was while indulging in this pastime at the Santa Fe depot, between 5 and 6 o'clock, that Officer Haskell put in an appearance. Pat Cagheen was evidently spoiling for a fight, but he was finally subdued by being knocked down, handcuffed and his legs tied together, in which condition he was brought in by Officers Haskell and Leverich, who had been called out to assist in the capture.

ICE! ICE!

Ice No Longer a Luxury in Los Angeles. Thank you to a Advertising Company.

The inhabitants of this progressive and rapidly-growing oil city have reason to be proud of the fact eastern capital has in its future. There has just been completed in this city the largest and best ice manufactory and cold-storage buildings in the world, by the Los Angeles Cold Storage and Hendrick Ice companies. The ice-making capacity is 50 ton daily. Our competitors claim that cheapening the price of ice will not increase its consumption. We believe different. We believe that ice is wanted for the preservation, in private houses, of meats, milk, butter, vegetables, and for ice water, ice tea, ice cream and other purposes, and that the exorbitant prices only have heretofore prevented its general use. We are confident of your patronage, as we are the direct and only cause of the reduction in price.

In connection with our ice and cold-storage buildings we have erected large smoke-houses and offer you, through the grocers and dealers, the only meats smoked here. They are much better than the other meats which all have to be bought from the dealers. Ask for our "Lily" hams and bacon. No skimmers in them, no mould, full weight. Orders for ice may be sent to us through the mail, or by telephone 228, or orders left at Mercure's Cigar Store, corner First and Main streets; Oil Burning and Supply Company, 81 North Main Street, will receive prompt attention. C. E. Tibbles, Superintendent Ice Department. M. Detharw, General Manager.
